

A Reader's Theater Script

Retold by Kathy Furgang

Word Count: 244

Characters:

Narrator

Little Red

Mother

Wolf

Grandma

Police Officer

Narrator:

A girl and her mother lived in a house in the woods.

Mother:

Grandma is sick today. Will you bring her this basket of food?

Little Red:

Sure!

Narrator:

The girl pulled on her favorite red hood and skipped outside.

Mother:

Those goodies will help grandma feel better.

Narrator:

A wolf heard the girl and her mother talking.

Wolf:

I'm so hungry, and here comes Little Red with food.

Narrator:

The wolf ran ahead to grandma's house and knocked on the door.

Grandma:

Who is it?

Wolf:

It's Little Red with some goodies for you.

Narrator:

Grandma opened the door.

Grandma:

Help, it's a wolf!

Narrator:

Grandma ran into the woods.

The wolf crept into the house and put on Grandma's nightgown.

Wolf:

I'll wait here in bed for my yummy goodies.

Narrator:

Soon there was a knock at the door.

Wolf:

I hope that's you, Little Red. I have been waiting for you.

Narrator:

Little Red went into the house and noticed that grandma looked strange.

Little Red:

Grandma, what big ears you have!

Wolf:

The better to hear your stories, my dear.

Little Red:

What big eyes you have!

Wolf:

The better to see your pretty face, my dear.

Little Red:

What big teeth you have!

Wolf:

The better to eat you with!

Little Red:

Help, you're not grandma!

Narrator:

Just then, grandma returned to the house with a police officer.

Grandma:

Take that big bad wolf away from here!

Police Officer:

Wolf, you're coming down to the station.

Narrator:

Grandma and Little Red thanked the police officer and everyone shared some yummy treats.